Some Interesting Facts About the

Copies of the Army Register for 1910 vere received in this city Tnesday. The Register may not come under the but it is interesting to anyone interested in military affairs. It is noted that the only colored cavalry captain in the army, Charles Young, stands that the only colored cavalry captain in the army, Charles Young, stands fifty-fourth in the line of 247 cavalry captains, having gained over 30 files in a year. In is months he will have attained his official majority, when he may become a squadron commander. When Capt. Young was made a first lieutenant he was assigned to the, Seventh cavalry, a white regiment, but was transerred back to the Ninth cavalry, from which command he came. Young graduated from West Point in 1859. Capt. Young is said to be a brilliant officer and is a musician, spending much of his time at the plano.

The names of two officers serving terms in prison still remain as before in the official list. They are Capt. Thomas Franklin, third on the list of the subsistence department, serving three years in Atlanta penitentiary for embezziement of government funds while quartermaster at West Point. He felt it necessary to "hold up his end of the stick" socially, for which his salary was insufficient. He therefore pleced out from the funds entrusted to his charge. Capt. Peter C. Hains of the artillery corps, who shot and killed William Annis, whom he believed too loving to Mrs. Hains, is in Sing Sing prison for a term. As neither of these officers was tried by court-martial, their names will remain on the army rolls, drawing their regular pay until some way can be found to get rid of them.

paid a high tribute to the character of the deceased.

The body will remain in a vault at Hall's undertaking parlors for some time and will then be taken to Coloma, Wis., for the final resting place. The remains will be taken there by Miss L. L. Willard, sister of the dead man.

In the course of his remarks, Rev. Goshen maintained that human life is held too cheaply, and while he did not want to prejudge, the fact is that some people seemed to care nothing about running down a man or woman in the street. The Rev. Mr. Goshen expressed the opinion that people are living too fast and should get back to early principles.

FIREMAN DIES OF INJURIES. Slipped From Engine and Crushed

Under Caboose, Ernest Lowe, aged 25, a fireman on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, died while being brought in to Salt Lake from Copperton shortly after 6 o'clock last night, from the effects of injuries received in an accident in which be fell from the guide-rail of the engine and was crushed under the wheels of the caboose. His right arm was severed close to the shoulder, and his skull was fractured. Though the unfortunate man remained conscious during the lightning run which was made from Copperton to Salt Lake in the hope of saving his life, he did not utter a moan, and only complained of a pain in his head.

As the train neared Copperton about 6 o'clock last night a valve on the engine near the pliot seemed to become stopped up. It attracted the attention of Engineer Burt Frankenfield, as well as of Fireman Lowe. The fireman dropped his shovel and walked out to the pilot, stepping along the guide rail on the side of the locomotive. He slipped and fell, the wheels of the caboose passing over his body, sovering his o'clock last night, from the effects of right arm and striking his skuil. A special train was made up at Bingham and with Lowe made as comfortable as possible the train sped into Salt Lake at the rate of 60 miles an hour. Lowe died, however, one hour after the accident, and before the train reached this city. Lowe came here from Spokane. Wash, about two months ago, and he recently resided at 72 south First West street. The railroad officials had the body turned over to a local undertaker, where it will be held until members of the family are heard from.
